

Veterans Day observed locally

BY TRACI BONNEY
While today is the nationally declared holiday for Veterans Day, local observation of the occasion will take place Monday.

The Waveland and Bay St. Louis American Legion Posts along with other area veterans groups are combining their Veterans Day celebrations. Clayton Thompson of Post #139 said, the American Legion, VFW and DAV posts and the organizations' auxiliaries are holding a single parade for the first time.

The parade will start and end at American Legion Post #77 in Waveland, this year's host post. It will line up at 9:30 a.m. Monday and start at 10.

The parade will go down Hillcrest Avenue to the beach, down the beach to Coleman Avenue, up Coleman to Central Avenue, across Central back to Hillcrest and end at the post.

After the parade, Rep. Gene Taylor will speak at Post #77. Refreshments will be served, and a brief ceremony will be held.

Afterward, a wreath will be laid at the Post #77 monument in memory of all past veterans.

Local post offices, city and county offices will be closed for the holiday.

Official Waveland election results stand

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The vote is in for Waveland. Although results from the November 6 Democratic primary election have been a continued source of controversy, no one has formally requested a repeat of the vote, according to Democratic Executive Committee chairman Beverly Zimmerman.

Zimmerman said the first confusion occurred when, while going over the election tapes Wednesday morning, she saw that the totals of 128 for Donald "D.C." Harvill and 87 for William Ruhr in the Ward 1 alderman's race were accidentally switched.

Harvill, in a phone conversation Friday, reported that he thought he saw Tuesday night a total of 80-something on the tape next to his number.

"I wasn't too surprised when they told me of the mistake," he added. "I felt there was an honest mistake made."

William Ruhr, who reported to have copied his figures from a lady in pink, actually had the correct totals. "I knew that night I had led the ticket."

Ruhr shuddered at the suggestion of repeating the Tuesday election, saying, "I hate to have to go over it all again. Three times is more than enough."

Ruhr will be facing Jeanne Garcia at the November 20 runoff for the Ward 1 seat.

The Ward 3 alderman election was also a mistake in transposing, said Zimmermann.

"It seems the totals for Frilout and Longo in Ward 3 were accidentally duplicated from the tape as totals for Curtis Colson and Clarence Harris," she explained.

Colson said, "I went home that night, preparing myself for the run-off election, when I kept looking at the results, reviewing them."

"I wondered why the mayoral vote total was about 100 votes less from the total alderman

"Also, my opponent and I received the same number of votes as two of the mayoral candidates. It appeared to be a transfer error from the start."

"The next morning I requested to be present for the official count for certification."

Colson will retain his seat, with no opposition in the general election.

Harris could not be reached for comment before press time. Pam Metzler, Hancock County Circuit Clerk, commented on what sort of situation would warrant a repeat election by saying, "Only if you have an out-and-out case of fraud can an election be recounted."

Colson, responding to the general confusion caused by the recount, stated, "I've learned a lesson. I will always personally review the ribbons, and each candidate should do this or have a representative to do so, because everyone's so emotionally involved."

Land rezoning tops city council agenda

BY TRACI BONNEY

Better kidney care is on the horizon for local residents.

The Bay St. Louis City Council approved a recommendation Tuesday from the Planning and Zoning Commission to re-zone a parcel of land on Drinkwater and Benigno streets from residential (R-1) to medical office (MO-1) following an October 24 public hearing. This rezoning will provide Dr. Douglas Lanier the clearance he needs to construct a dialysis center near Hancock Medical Center.

Lanier attended the meeting, along with HMC administrator Don Henderson, Dr. James Crittenden, real estate agent

Andy Sawyer, attorney Steve Benvenuti and several others. As the council discussed whether or not to adopt the ordinance authorizing the rezoning, Henderson, Sawyer, Benvenuti and Crittenden addressed several remarks to the council members.

Henderson told the council the dialysis center "is a vital service to the community" and said the rezoning will benefit the community not only by allowing the construction of the center, but also by opening the door for future growth and expansion of existing and new practices.

Several council members expressed concerns about traffic, road and property space considerations. Mayor Edward Favre and those attending the meeting addressed those concerns and answered most of them in a manner that seemed to satisfy the council.

However, when the matter came to a vote, councilman Jim Thrifflay voted against it, explaining that he could not agree to the rezoning of the entire parcel, which is slightly more than 800 feet deep.

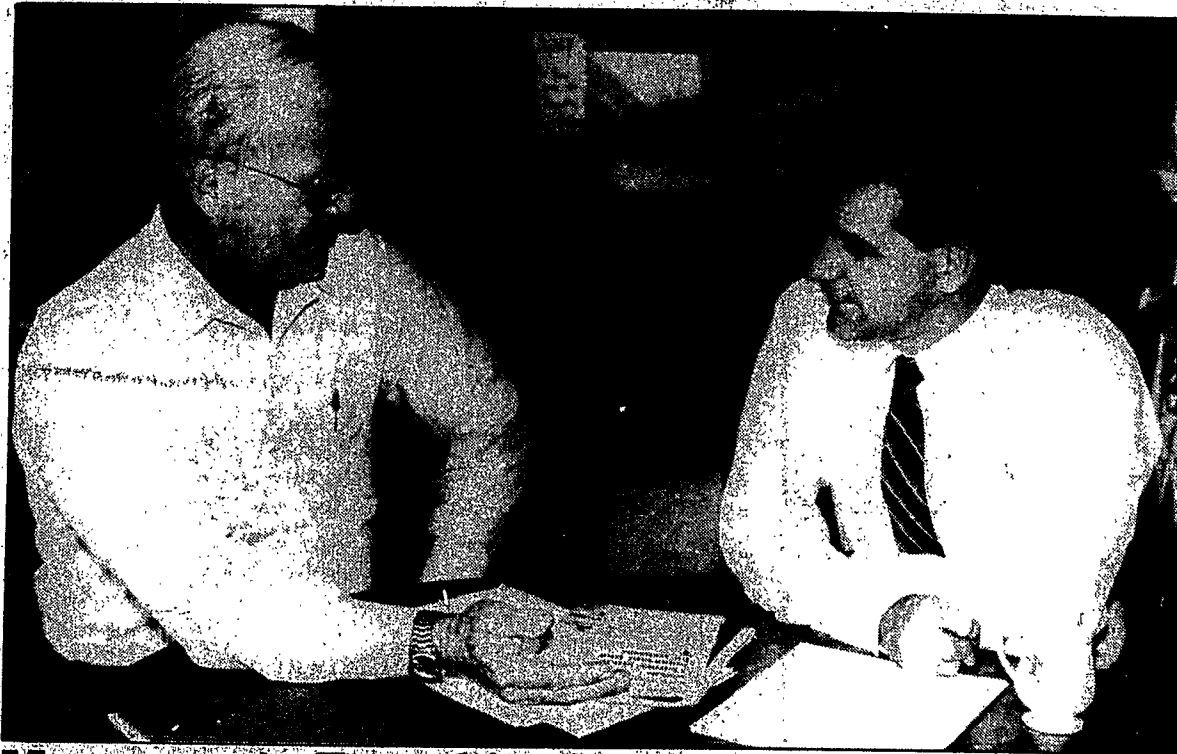

In other matters during the public forum, Bay St. Louis Police Officer Don Ocho appealed to the council on behalf of

Wheels turn in murder case

Travis B. White, 17, of Kiln, accused of killing cab driver Leon Howard "Wally" Wallace of Bay St. Louis last month, claimed Wallace made sexual advances toward him, according to White's attorney.

White was arrested after Wallace's body was found lying near his taxi around 1:30 a.m.

Oct. 28 on Thompson Graveyard Road.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department officials have said robbery was the motive for the death.

Public Defender Nicholas M. Haas asked Terry to issue a gag order on local media because he thought a change of venue might be necessary to ensure a fair trial. Terry instead said he would direct those involved in the case to follow court rules concerning releasing information.

Terry authorized Haas to hire a private investigator to aid in preparing White's defense.

Gill net ban suggested as a tourist safety measure

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

When official measures fail, sometimes a cup of coffee and a chat can make an impact.

During an informal conversation with Sen. Vic Frankiewicz Saturday, Nov. 3, Clermont Harbor resident Jim Maness aired his concerns about the dangers gill nets and crab traps present to swimmers and boaters.

Maness proposed the ban of gill nets and crab pots, as a tourist-promoting safety measure, along all seawalls and beaches from Bayou Cadet (Caddy) to the Bay bridge for a distance of one mile out from shore.

Maness expressed special concern for children, citing a May 1989 incident when an 11-year-old girl required 27 stitches from cuts when entangled in a commercial crab pot directly in front of the Clermont Harbor beach, in less than three feet of water.

Frankiewicz listened as Maness presented documentation of efforts by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to gain assistance from the Bureau of Marine Resources (BMR) in the enforcement of present legislation to limit netting areas.

Frankiewicz said, "It concerns me that numerous attempts have been made by the county to address these problems with no results."

"I intend to discuss this further with the BMR and with my colleagues in the Senate."

Frankiewicz stated small gains could be made as tourist safety measures, such as seasonal bans and designation of

Waveland seeks site for new water well

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Waveland's Board of Aldermen gave board attorney Lucien Gex approval to hire a realtor to search for an available 50' x 50' piece of property on which a new water well may be placed.

The land must be north of Old Spanish Trail and in the vicinity of Henderson Street, according to engineering specification, stated Gex at a Thursday, Nov.

8 meeting.

"The well site must be found soon," said Gex, "for it is holding up confirmation proceedings with the Farmers Home Administration."

The FHA awarded the City of Waveland a $1.2 million for water and sewerage improvements, expected to begin in January of 1992.

Gex explained he had not time to go land searching and felt the expediency of the need required the expense.

The board met on Tuesday, Nov. 6 and completed all but three items. Due to being the Democratic primary election, the meeting was continued to Nov. 8.

Other business of the evening included:

—Acceptance of a low bid from Necaise Construction

"Sentenced to Read" has successful first year

Special to the Echo
 "Sentenced to Read," a program to teach court-dispositioned youth and young adults basic learning and employment skills, has a 91 percent positive completion rate for its first full year, according to Youth Court Judge Michael D. Haas Sr.

Haas said, "Of the children who have been through our program, 37 percent have returned to school, 35 percent have obtained a job, 14 percent have applied for and participated in the Job Corps program, and five percent have obtained their GED."

The program is coordinated with Youth Court, the school systems and other local agencies. Following court disposition, "Sentenced to Read" candidates have preliminary interviews. Youth applications are then submitted to Gulf Coast Business Service for Job Training Partnership Act eligibility certification.

Following certification, youths are scheduled for vocational and academic assessment where they formulate goals and obtain assistance in developing a plan to attain those goals.

The program uses a tutorial approach instead of a classroom setting, Haas said. "Youths can spend as little as 80 hours in the program or as many as 180 hours, depending on their needs."

He added, "We are pleased with the completion of the program's first full year and are looking toward the future with even greater expectation."

The former Hancock County Jail facility will be dedicated as the official home of "Sentenced to Read" in a November 16 ceremony at 4 p.m. U. S. District Judge Walter J. Gex III will be the speaker at the event, which is open to the public.

ON PATROL

INMATE TAKES OFF

Captain Gerald Necaise, warden at the Hancock County Jail, reported that trusty Andrew Genna, 25, was given a pass on Tuesday, Nov. 6, to attend his grandmother's funeral and has failed to return.

"Genna is not a violent person," said Necaise. "He has another 2 1/2 years left to serve on a burglary conviction."

Necaise said Genna had been out on trusty passes before to work at various jobs and for family emergencies.

"He always returned. I have letters of commendation from those jobs he has been on."

"The longer Genna stays out, the worse it gets."

Necaise said Genna's family is upset that he used his grandmother's funeral to stage his disappearance, and they are trying to help find him and convince him to return.

Genna is described as being 25 years old, six feet tall, slim and muscular, and having brown hair and blue eyes.

netting areas where the least amount of people frequent.

"I doubt the entire area would be banned," he added. "There is the problem of practical access. All other waters available would have to be reached by boat," he said, which would cause some to be denied a livelihood.

Maness explained he chose to speak with Senator Frankiewicz because of his recent appointment to the Arts, Tourism and Cultural Resources Committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL), placing him in a position to support the banning of commercial gill nets and crab pots for the safety of much sought after tourists.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy
McGuire Caire

You can truly "go hog wild" (as one of our supermarkets phrases its offerings) at the meat counters just now, with pork of all cuts and variations at specially good prices this week.

And, as you probably know, today's leaner pork is lower in fat and calories and that bugbear—cholesterol—than the pork of a decade ago, thanks to newer breeding and feeding techniques and such.

In fact, a recent study by University of Wisconsin researchers, brought the conclusion that the leaner cuts of pork belong in the same nutritional category as boneless chicken breast meat.

In the course of the study, results of which were announced at a recent session of the American Dietetic Association in Denver, Colo., the university researchers evaluated 1,200 fresh pork samples from markets in 15 cities.

As you are aware, I'm sure, high fat diets have been linked to increased risk of heart disease and cancer. So I'll be "pigging out" at least a bit, but choosing lean cuts and trimming fat from others!

With lean pork loin roasts and chops at good prices at our markets, we can enjoy pork dishes without guilt! The tenderloin, higher in price, but without waste, is an especially tasty cut. Fresh lean pork picnic roasts and pork cutlets are also offered, along with country-style pork ribs and large-size ribs, so, take your choice. One dish I shall enjoy is:

SUE'S

SKILLET SPECIAL

Braise several lean pork chops in a heavy skillet, seasoning to taste with salt and pepper. Top each chop with a slice of onion and one of bell (green) pepper, then with a slice of lemon.

Pour over all a medium can of V-8 or other vegetable juice, along with a generous cup of dry white wine. Cover and simmer for 45 minutes or so, until the chops are tender to the touch of a fork. The lemon slices, with the peel left on, give extra flavor to the dish, as well as serving as a colorful garnish. (Serves four or so).

Serve with rice and a green salad, accented with avocado slices and mandarin orange wedges (both are in good supply at the markets just now, and the avocados are down somewhat in price this week) in a poppy seed dressing. This is my daughter-in-law, Sue Breath McGuire's recipe, from my cookbook, "Cooking Up a Storm."

I brought a couple of select lean pork shoulder blade steaks home from the market this morning, as they were really a bargain at the price. I trimmed off the fat, then I cut the two steaks up a bit, winding up with two leaner than lean boneless steaks or cutlets, with enough pork left to cut in strips for a sweet and sour pork dish. I cooked the steaks by Sue's recipe—delicious!

I like to combine pork with citrus fruits, as a change from apples, whether I'm cooking a roast or chops, and I freely use lemons and oranges and grapefruits in the process. Apples are piled in the produce bins, and at good prices, also.

I like to set a pork loin roast cooking in the oven, then dribble orange juice over as it comes to a wonderful "porky" turn, as our family cook used to describe it; and I think that I'll accent my roast this time with slices of Kiwi fruit, now that this exotic fruit is such a bargain!

And, if you toss some of the bargain pork spare ribs into your market basket, try this ever-so-easy-on-the-cook:

SHERRY SPARE RIBS

2 lbs. spare ribs, cut apart
1 cup water
1/2 cup sherry
2 Tbsp. soy sauce
1 Tbsp. sugar

Combine the water, sherry, soy sauce and sugar in a Dutch oven or large saucepan, and bring to a boil. Reduce the heat, toss in the ribs and simmer for an hour and a half, perhaps two hours until tender. (Four servings)

Enough of Porky-the-Pig! Let's check out the specials in beef. Perhaps you want to "think big" and buy a whole sirloin tip at a bargain price, incidentally, sliced free into boneless sirloin steaks.

Enjoy a steak dinner, and stash some steaks in the freezer and you're ahead of the money game.

Sirloin steaks are also available, slightly higher in price per pound, of course, and bottom round roasts and steaks are also yours for the choosing. I think that I'll cook a round steak down, Creole fashion, in a good tomatoey sauce, with celery and onions and bell pepper and seasonings, and cook up that good ole "comfort food," mashed potatoes, to go along with it.

Thinking ahead to that

Thanksgiving dinner? Well, turkeys are in good supply at the markets, from fresh turkeys (10 to 22 pounds average) to self-basting birds to Butterballs to whatever; and if you're feeling lazy or want a bit of pampering, you can order your turkey dinner with all the trimmings from the deli departments!

Chicken is also in good supply, with special prices on split breasts and breast quarters, so adaptable to so many ways of cookery. Combine them with some of that delicious fresh fruit, or bake a hen along with some of those bargain carrots and potatoes in the markets.

Other good buys: Broccoli, green onions, cabbage.

Whether you voted for me Tuesday or not, I want to thank you.

It takes a special kind of person to turn out on a Tuesday and vote in an election.

My hat is off to the nearly 2,000 people in Waveland who took part of their workday to vote in Waveland's primary election. It's obvious the voters are ready for a change. More than 600 people endorsed my candidacy in the primary. Hardworking taxpayers like you deserve good government.

Now, with the runoff just days away, I'll need the vote of each and every citizen who believes as I do that the problems in our city must be fixed and fixed now. Waveland is a great place to live. Together we can make it better.

If you supported a candidate in the primary who is no longer in the race, I urge you not to lose interest now. Our city government affects our economy, our safety and our future. It's too important to stay home.

Roast Stuffed Cornish Hen

Holidays become even more special when cornish hens are the featured main course. Set them on a bed of wild rice on a beautiful platter, decorate with sprigs of parsley and start a new holiday tradition.

6 Cornish hens (about 14 ounces each)
1 package wild rice mix or long grain and wild rice combination (2 cups of cooked rice)
1 medium onion, chopped

2 tbsp. margarine
1 tsp. sage or thyme, savory or tarragon
1/4 cup brandy
1 cup orange sections

To make the stuffing, cook rice until it is still slightly firm. Drain. In a skillet, melt margarine and cook chopped onion until browned. Add rice and sage; toss gently.

Clean, wash and dry hens. Stuff lightly and skewer or sew the vents closed.

Brush hens with 1/2 cup melted margarine and place breasts side up on a rack in a shallow pan. Roast at 350° F., uncovered, about 1 hour, basting occasionally with the melted margarine.

Make a sauce by adding 1/2 cup water to the drippings in the roasting pan, stirring to dislodge browned particles from the pan. Add 1/4 cup brandy and 1 cup orange sections. Cook 2 minutes. Serve with hens.

United Way needs the help of many, benefits thousands

The United Way of Hancock is in the midst of the 1990 campaign to fund 23 agencies in 1991.

The United Way of Hancock County celebrates its 26th anniversary of serving the needs of the citizens of Hancock County.

The goal for the 1980 campaign is $110,000, a $10,000 increase over 1989's. Tim Ryan, South Central Bell's assistant manager, Gulf Coast corporate and community affairs office, is campaign chairman.

Records list the following persons as attending the first United Way meeting in Hancock County: Mrs. Theo Tudury, Allan Sarraat, Walter Turcotte, Tom Logue, Warren Carver, Charles Carter Jr., Powell Glass Jr., W. Ray Gordon and Mrs. C.R. (Mae) Beyer.

The organization was first known as the United Fund and this was later changed to United Way.

The first agencies in Hancock County were Boy Scouts (Cypress District), Girl Scouts (Gulf Pines Council), Retarded Children, Red Cross (Hancock Chapter), Blood Bank and (Gulf Coast) Mental Health.

As campaign contributions increased over the years, the number of deserving agencies were added and also the amounts increased for agency members.

In order for the United Way to continue to grow in Hancock County, it has taken the volunteer services of hundreds of persons to make this possible along with the generosity of thousands of citizens.

As our community has grown, so has the United Way in the number of agencies funded.

Boys Scouts, Girl Scouts, Blood Bank and Mental Health are still agencies of the United Way of Hancock County.

The agencies include, Catholic Social Services, Epilepsy Foundation of Mississippi, Goodwill Industries, Gulf Coast Women's Center, Hancock County Emergency Relief, Hancock County Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund and Hancock County Food Pantry.

Other Agencies are Parents and Professionals of Exceptional Children, Pierre The Pelican, Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), St. Michael Farm for Boys, Seashore Manor Homemaker Program, St. Vincent de Paul, Salvation Army, Senior Citizens Programs, Hancock Community Youth Task Force and U.S.O. (Worldwide).

As you can see, the United Way of Hancock County touches thousands of citizens each year, from pre-birth to the grave.

The United Way of Hancock County needs your help now in order to reach a goal of $110,000.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

A ribbon cutting is scheduled for 1:45 p.m. this afternoon for the Hancock County Junior/Senior High School facility located off Highway 603 next to the Stennis Airpark.

An Open House will be held until 5 p.m. and I urge all citizens to take this opportunity to visit the new exciting school facilities.

I have visited the facility, and I can tell you that it is very impressive and very much up-to-date with labs, computers, library, classrooms, special education, etc.

I am hoping there will be a large turnout this afternoon, and I hope to see you at the Open House.

A big, big Veterans Day parade is scheduled for Monday in a joint effort by the American Legion Posts of Bay St. Louis and Waveland along with all veterans organizations in Hancock County.

This year, the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland, will be the host with the parade beginning at 10 a.m. at the post home.

U.S. Congressman Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis is scheduled guest speaker after the parade.

Legionnaires from the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139, Bay St. Louis and Waveland, along with members of the many veterans and auxiliary organizations are urged to attend, and if possible, participate in the parade.

Veterans are urged to wear their hats and uniforms if available.

Hot dogs and refreshments will be served following the ceremonies.

As I do research on the Echo's Archives I see where there have been many big parades in Hancock County over the years, and I am hoping this Veterans Day parade will rank right up there with those of the past. I hope to see you at the parade Monday.

VETERANS DAY

Remembering our Veterans

Thanks to a Veteran

BY G. V. (SONNY) MONTGOMERY
U. S. House of Representatives

There is no American whose life has not been touched by it. There is no citizen of the world whose existence will not be affected by it.

On the battlefield and in peacetime service, our defenders have rendered a glorious legacy... the blessing of liberty, prosperity, hope. If the legacy is to remain intact, then those of us who benefit from its rewards must contemplate its price. It was claimed with blood, with unequalled resolution, and with a mighty love of country. They fought not for gain, not for territory, but for principles. The best we can do in their honor is uphold these principles.

On November 6, we exercised one of our most precious rights... the right to choose our own leaders and representatives. The simple action of pulling the voting booth lever was made possible by a veteran. Thanks to a veteran, we can publicly debate our government's actions without fear of reprisal. Worship is a matter of individual choice, thanks to a veteran. But a veterans' deeds are not checked by mere territorial boundaries.

The sweet rain of freedom and human rights continues to fall into every crevice and sweeps across every peak of the planet thanks to American veterans. We see the harvest of their past labors in the toppling of dictators worldwide, in the prevalence of the human spirit over aggression and oppression, and in the demolition of a wall. Freedom's future is being built upon similar labors in the Persian Gulf and everywhere an American serviceman or woman stands vigil.

We once made great strides in squaring our debt to those who have served this nation faithfully and honorably. In recent years, this has been a struggle. Despite efforts to the contrary by those who wield calculators and short memories, we must go on to safeguard our system of veterans' benefits and services.

But it requires more than one Congressman. It requires more than the Congress or the White House. It requires the interest and support of each and every American, particularly in the confusing and quarrelsome fiscal circumstances we now face. When budget resources are divided, when considerations are provided, no one deserves higher priority than our veterans.

Use and nurture the things a veteran has given you, and when you do, consider the labors which allowed you to do so, lest your freedom become irreparably weakened. Let us never become so comfortable with our peace, precarious as it is under an unyielding cloud of threat, that we forget the immeasurable sacrifice by which it was achieved. Let us never become so comfortable with our freedom that we ignore the needs of those who handed it to us.

Though Veterans Day is important, recognition for our defenders should not be restricted to one or two events each year, it should be a daily matter of the heart. We have an obligation to continually recommit ourselves to the principles that made us strong and to acknowledge the individuals who shouldered our most threatening burdens.

Whatever you do today, the choice is yours. Thanks to a veteran.

FROM THE CAPITOL

By Governor Ray Mabus

Americans celebrate Veterans Day this year with a wish

Seventy-two years ago, American soldiers joined the rest of the world in celebrating the first Armistice Day.

On Nov. 11, 1918, World War I came to an end with the signing of an armistice between the Allied and Central Powers in a railway car in France. Celebrations began almost immediately, as millions of soldiers in trenches and battlefields chanted, "The war is over!"

As we follow our patriotic heritage, we do so proudly by remembering those who wore the uniform this Veterans Day.

This November 11 is especially important. In 1990, we continue that tradition that began in 1918, only this Veterans Day, we will be looking to the east, to Mississippi's men and women stationed in Saudi Arabia. We look to these brave soldiers for their dedication and honor them with our support.

This Veterans Day, we will not only pay tribute to those who have served in the armed forces, on Nov. 11 we will also honor our mothers, fathers, sons and daughters who are currently in the Middle East, at the ready to protect America's interests in the face of a dictator.

In the words of President Woodrow Wilson, who stood tall over our country's first armistice celebration, "It is our fortunate duty to assist by example, by sober, friendly counsel, and by material aid in the establishment of just democracy throughout the world."

Seventy-two years later, that is just what Americans are doing.

We are helping to carry out the task of ensuring that the blossoms of democracy that have sprouted across Europe also bloom in the deserts of the Middle East.

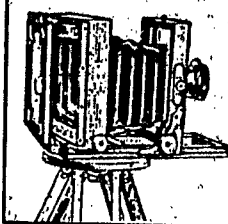

We are cooperating with our foreign friends to show that freedom rests on the shoulders of those mindful to defend the defenseless.

And Mississippi is leading the charge through the bravery and dedication of our National Guard, Reservists, enlisted and volunteer forces.

Our soldiers have our gratitude this Veterans Day.

Our soldiers have our smiling price this Veterans Day.

But, most of all, our soldiers have our prayers this Veterans Day. Prayers of their safe return home to a nation that promises peace through strength, duty and the honorable belief that democracy is not only worth having, but worth sharing.

The Recreation Project Community House is changing location because of the need of larger quarters due to increased attendance. The project will move from the Community House on Washington Street, which they have occupied for the last two years, and will occupy the large building on Third Street, formerly occupied by Boudin's Store. The increased space available there will enable the children during the winter months to enjoy many indoor games, and during the daytime, the large grounds about the building will permit outdoor sports, for which there is no space on the present place which they occupy.

What's Your Telephone Score? Most people realize the business and social value of a pleasant telephone personality, and a seemingly gruff or hasty manner is usually just thoughtlessness. Since this seems to be the age of quizzes, how about a short one on some points of telephone usage? Do You Talk Directly into the Telephone? The proper way to use the telephone for the best results is to hold the transmitter directly in front of the lips while you are talking. Do You Speak Pleasantly? Remember...it may be your best friend or your best customer. This was due to the fact, that after repeated attempts, no company cared to write a policy for fire protection, considering the moving picture business too great a hazard.

Rock roundball tips off Tuesday

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws basketball team will open its regular season of play this Tuesday, November 13, at home against the St. John's Eagles.

The Rocks return only one starter, Galen Smith, from last year's District VIII 4-A runner-up team.

In addition, this year's team will be young, with only three seniors returning, Smith, Ken Booker and Erik York.

"Smith should be a big force in the middle," noted Rock head basketball coach Chuck Genin, looking ahead to Tuesday's opener. "Booker was a part-time starter, but gained valuable experience at point guard. York played both junior varsity and varsity and improved greatly toward the end of last season.

"I'm expecting these seniors to be a big influence on our younger players. They can play a big role in our run for the district championship."

The district race should be a good one, with all five teams capable of the district title. In addition, the Rocks play tough non-district opponents. Bay High, Pascagoula, Northshore (La.), Ocean Springs and Denham Springs (La.) are among the competition the Rocks will face this season.

"I feel we have more height and will be stronger on the boards than in the past," Genin said. "We will stress strong, pressure defense, and a patient offensive attack."

The Rock-A-Chaws will participate in the Hancock County Tournament November 15-17 at Bay High; the d'Iberville Tournament December 6-8; the Bay High Tournament December 13-15; and will host the third annual SSC Invitational January 24-26. In addition, the Rocks are in line to host the District VIII 4-A tournament.

Final decisions on starters are not complete yet, but, according to Genin, "With the loss of seven of last year's seniors, our lineup could fluctuate from game to game. We have great competition among our players with at least two deep at all positions."

Other players vying for positions include juniors Steve Schuff, Grady Thigpen, J.T. Wood, Brandon Smith, Trent Terrell, Mike Lee, Trian Platz, John Hamilton, Chad Hood, Murat Hatipoglu, and Ben McCollister.

Sophomores are Gene Moran, Evan Morris, John McGaha, Jeff Bishop, and James Bailey, with freshmen Derek Inkol and Shawn Williams.

Tuesday's action against St. John will tip off at 6:00 with the junior varsity contest, followed at 7:30 by the varsity game.

The Rocks will begin district play on November 20 at home against the St. Martin Yellow Jackets.

Tigers open basketball season

The Bay High Tiger basketball teams will open their 1990-91 season at home this week with four games in the Tiger Dome.

On Tuesday, the Tigers will entertain d'Iberville High School with a boys' junior varsity contest beginning at 5 p.m., followed by varsity girls at 6:30 p.m. The varsity boys finish the evening beginning at 8 p.m.

Opening on Thursday and continuing Friday and Saturday, Bay High will be the host site of the third annual Hancock County Tournament.

The tournament is a round-robin format involving county schools, Bay High, Hancock High and St. Stanislaus.

Rounding out the field to complete the eight teams are Ocean Springs boys and girls teams, and d'Iberville girls.

Bay High boys' coach Michael Ladner is looking forward to the week and the season with optimism about this year's squad.

"I can't predict how many wins we will have at the end of this season, but I can say without any doubt or hesitation, we will be a team basketball fans will enjoy watching," said Ladner.

"This group is very small compared to the average high school team. Some people will watch us warm up and wonder why we are no taller than some ninth grade teams, but I think they will be pleasantly surprised."

"These young men refuse to let any team give more of a physical effort. I enjoy watching them hustle, and I think others will, also. I hope people will come watch these young men play," he said.

Ladner added the following as key strategies to the Tigers winning this year.

"We must shoot well, especially from outside. We must play great half-court defense helping each other at all times."

"We have to get a few easy baskets each night off our fast break and plan to out-think each opponent we play."

The Tiger squad this year is a mix of experience and youth. Seniors with varsity experience, who should solidify the team, are James Mayfield, Mike Scharp, Calvin Thigpen and David Weems.

Two other seniors who will help the Tigers are two-year-team member Kevin Couch and exchange student Miguel Mazanas from Spain.

The only junior on the team is Brian Necaise, who is working hard to help the team develop on inside game.

Three sophomores will see considerable playing time in the beginning of the year. They are Travis Collins, Tristian Robertson and Tripp Whavers.

Rounding out the squad are all sophomores who are going to give the Tigers a bright future.

They are Ricky Coles, Kevin Gillum, Billy Fryer, Larrone Lewis and Romales Wilkerson.

The Bay High Lady Tigers, under new head coach Ann Lathrope, are also looking forward to a good season, although youth will dominate the (Lady Tiger) squad.

Lathrope realizes the squad is in a rebuilding situation.

"This will be a building year for us, and I will be playing a lot of young girls to allow them to gain experience."

"All of my girls have good attitudes and are optimistic about the season," said Lathrope.

Team members for the upcoming season are seniors Vida Laneaux, Candice Payne and Kecia Walker;

Juniors Pilar Frederick, Stacy Henley, Michelle Sheppard; Sophomores Stephanie Kennedy and Lachina Tillman, and freshmen Tracy Collins and Tessa Metzler.

Christ Episcopal's annual Harvest Dinner is intergenerational event

The annual Harvest Dinner at Christ Episcopal Church will be Thursday, Nov. 15.

The 41st annual event will take place from 5 to 8 p.m. at Virginia Hall on the church grounds, Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis.

The dinner is the last scheduled event of Christ Episcopal's 1990 Centennial Celebration.

The harvest Dinner is again chaired by Kim Debenport, assisted by Gwen Hogan, Pat Callahan, Susan Stevens, Linda McCulloch, Jeff Debenport and Fran Lucas. Proceeds will be used to support the Women of Christ Church organization for outreach projects.

In 1948, seven women of Christ Episcopal Church prepared the meal that began the tradition of the fund-raising dinner served to approximately 250 people of all faiths at the home of Charles and Mary Breath.

"Since that time it has become an intergenerational tradition, a true meaning of a church family," said Kim Debenport.

Planning menu

Price of the meal, as in recent years, is $5 per person. In addition to meals served in Virginia Hall, take-out meals will be available.

The menu will offer turkey, ham, cornbread dressing, gravy, sweet potato casserole, spinach casserole, Waldorf salad; cranberry relish (specialty of Effie McCulloch), dessert, rolls, coffee or tea.

Tickets are available at the door or may be purchased in advance through any church member. For information, call Debenport at 467-9701 or Gwen Hogan, 467-7606.

A most simple man

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

To be called simple is usually to be insulted, because, for most of us, being simple is synonymous with being vacant-minded, unsophisticated, naive, unambitious, devoid of initiative, uninspired, entirely predictable, boring and unnoticed by others.

However, there are individuals who merit being called simple without any of the above-mentioned stigmas attached to the adjective.

These are they who somehow absorb into themselves and implement in their own distinctive way the same simplicity which we attribute to God.

God, after all, has no moving parts, no before or after, no conflict of interest, no contradictions, no ulterior motives and no selfishness.

By the standards of many, one James Balthazar fit the negative description of simplicity in some ways, since he inclined away from the flamboyant, the complex, the sophisticated and the spectacular.

His smile was plain, but engaging. Always congenial, his speech was interspersed with down-home sayings and tales. The one tale which the youngest members of the community, the novices, coaxed him to repeat often was the "Wobbling Sow."

It so happened that a huge sow had contracted a virus and was in a dying way. Brother James, erstwhile hog farmer on the grounds of St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis, was told by a veterinarian that penicillin shots might cure the sow. Needle in hand, the determined brother began the series of shots.

"It was just a matter of days," he recounted, "that the sow first began to move without being able to get up. Then, she gradually struggled until one day she managed to stand upright. But she wobbled," he indicated with a gesture-painted picture, to the sheer delight of his listeners who craned their heads in detailed pursuit of the spirited body English.

"Do you know that sow progressed and got well to the point where she was so healthy and vigorous that we were able to slaughter her?"

Curiously intermingled with his homely approach to life was James' offhand manner of discussing moral and theological problems. Without a hint of systematic, scientific dialogue, his conversations nonetheless usually made more horse sense than many of the learned ramblings of so-called intellectuals.

Often good for a laugh when he least tried, James doggedly sought the personal blessing of Father Rector whenever he was about to embark on any mission or trip.

In order to get that precious blessing, he would fight his way through any gathering under any conditions. We were always amused whenever he popped into a group deep in conversation and fell to his knee in front of the Rector, begging for his personal blessing.

Always dear to his heart, community life at St. Augustine Seminary constantly drew him back, even while paying visits to cherished friends.

"I have to get back to the seminary," he would soon say, "to see what's happening," or "to take care of the laundry, especially the sheets from the Retreat House."

For all his simplicity of attitude and lifestyle, James managed nevertheless to amass an impressive array of friends at every level and in every walk of life, so that, when he went to greet his Creator on September 20, there was a startling groundswell of grief and a surprisingly broad expression of loss and enrichment.

An extraordinarily simple man who did ordinary things extraordinarily well, Brother James Balthazar relieved St. Therese of Lisieux and left us all a legacy of how to be a disciple of Jesus.

LOOKING INSIDE

By Pastor Bob Guidry, Jr.

Jesus is coming soon! Are you tired of hearing this phrase? Have you begun to wonder if he is coming at all? Maybe you don't believe he ever will come.

Did you know the Bible speaks about what you are feel-

Montjoy, Levert, Cotter lead discussions for men

St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Diamondhead will host a series of discussions on Men's Issues: For Men Only, beginning Wednesday, November 14 and continuing November 28 and December 8.

Presentations will be made by Paul Montjoy, Fred Levert and the Reverend Barry Cotter, vicar.

Their topics will include:
—What problems do men face in opening up to women, to other men and to their children?

—How do men's early childhood experiences shape their attitudes as adults?

—How do these experiences affect men's attitudes toward marriage, retirement, parenting and friendship with other men?

For additional information, call 255-9213.

Familiarity breeds contempt

ing in regard to Jesus' coming back?

In Matthew 24:48-51, Jesus tells us about those who will be skeptical of his return.

He speaks of a man who said in his heart that his Lord was not coming any time soon, and how this thinking affected the man's behavior.

Jesus tells us that this man began to eat and drink with the drunken. Jesus says the man even started to smite, or beat, his fellow servants.

Many of us today have put aside the belief that Jesus will come back for us. This has resulted in our not caring for each other.

We become so wrapped up in the world that we don't have time to reach out and help one another. Jesus warned us of this some 2,000 years ago.

We as Christians should never lose sight of the fact that Jesus is coming back. We also should never get tired of waiting for his return.

If we allow Satan to rob us of our expectancy, we may also lose our compassion toward others.

Jesus said of the man who began to do those things that were not Christian, that he would end up with the hypocrites in a place where there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Jesus says in Matthew 24:44, "Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come."

Elderly advised to take flu shots offered at Hancock Health Dept.

Readily available flu shots would spare thousands of Mississippians the misery of influenza. So public health officials push vaccine every year to save them from the viral disease and its complications, the fifth leading cause of death in Mississippians 65 years of age or older.

The Mississippi State Department of Health offers flu shots before the flu season, which usually begins around early December and lasts through April. The shots, available at county health departments, carry a $5 administration fee.

Shots may be obtained at the Hancock County Health Department, Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis on Mondays and Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. There is no charge for persons qualifying for Medicare, Part B. They are asked to bring their cards to show proof of enrollment.

While not 100 percent effective, the vaccine remains the most effective means of preventing influenza. The vaccines, made from purified, killed egg-grown viruses, cannot cause influenza.

"We encourage everyone to get a flu shot around this time of the year," said State Epidemiologist Dr. Ed Thompson.

"It's especially important for the elderly because they are more susceptible to complications from influenza."

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) recommends a new shot each fall since influenza immunization declines within a year. And since immunity from the vaccine starts to decline after several months, the shot should be given as close to the actual flu season as possible.

The Mississippi State Department of Health recommends flu shots for:

• Anyone who wants to avoid the flu.

• Certain groups at increased risk for serious complication if they get the flu, such as:

• Adults or children with chronic diseases of the cardiovascular or pulmonary system, including children with asthma.

• Persons 65 years of age or older.

• Nursing home patients, with approval from their attending physician.

• Adults and children who have required medical follow-up or hospitalization during the previous year because of chronic metabolic disease.

• Children six months to 18 years who are receiving long-term aspirin therapy, and may be at risk of developing Reye syndrome after influenza.

• Health care workers, especially those working with patients who fall into one of the above groups.

• Persons whose absence from work could result in disruption of essential services, including school teachers, certain military personnel, police officers, and firefighters.

People with allergies to eggs or persons with illnesses accompanied by fever should not receive the influenza vaccine.

For more information about influenza or the vaccine, readers should contact their physician or local health department at 467-4510.

Inexpensive holiday gift ideas offered at workshop

With the economy getting tighter, everyone is looking for ways to enhance holiday spirit and minimize holiday spending. Inexpensive and unusual holiday gifts and decorations will be the focus of this month's "Lunch and Learn."

The program will be Wednesday, Nov. 13, 12:10 to 12:50 p.m. at First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, downtown Bay St. Louis.

Thanksgiving seniors dinner planned Nov. 18

A Thanksgiving dinner and bingo games will be offered for senior citizens Sunday, November 18, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Highway 603, Kiln.

Hawks fly by McComb 12-7

Special to the Echo
BY BELINDA LILES

The Hancock Hawks pulled off an outstanding come-from-behind victory Friday night, beating the McComb Tigers by the score of 12-7.

McComb won the flip of the coin and elected to kick off to Hancock. The Hawks took possession of the ball and moved it down to the Tiger 34 where they were forced to punt on a fourth-and-six. Terrance Goff's kick was downed at the 10.

McComb wasted no time in showing what got them into the playoffs. The first three plays were handoffs to James Matthews, the Tigers' senior star running back. Matthews moved the ball out to the 30 and it was now second-and-six when Hancock jumped offside bringing up a second-and-one.

Then it was time for their and behind the blocking of their big offensive line began to move the ball gain. Matthews and Williams this time allowed Gray to get in on the action.

The Tigers had pushed the ball down to the Hancock 18 and appeared to be driving for another score when Hawk defensive lineman Brodie Forrest knocked the ball loose and Regan Ladner covered it for the Hawks. This was the first of four fumbles that took place during the last five minutes of the first half.

Thanks to the wet field and cold weather, in addition to fine defensive efforts from both teams, neither offense was able to put together a drive that resulted in points throughout the remainder of the half. McComb had a 7-0 edge at halftime.

When the Hawks came out of in for the score.

The PAT was wide to the left so McComb still held the lead at 7-6 with 5:45 left in the third quarter.

Goff's kickoff traveled to McComb's end zone and the ball was brought out to their 20. The Tigers started another long drive. They had moved the ball all the way down to the Hancock 10 as time ran out in the third quarter.

With the ball on the five and a first-and-goal, Matthew appeared to be headed for the score when once again the Hawk defense rose to the occasion and forced him to fumble. This time Chad Favre came up with the fumble for Hancock on the 1-yard line.

Hancock's offensive had moved the ball out to the 44 when on a second-and-two Hawk QB Regan Ladner was sacked for a 17-yard loss. After an incomplete pass Hancock was forced to punt and McComb took over on their own 37.

Two plays later the Tigers fumbled yet again and the Hawks covered the ball on the 33-yard line. The fired-up offensive unit came back onto the field. The line was determined and sure of themselves as they opened big holes for their running backs. Vince picked up 5 yards and Goff darted for runs of 6 and 5.

Now with the ball resting on the 17, Goff broke through the right side and danced into the end zone for his second touchdown of the night. The Hawks went for two but were unsuccessful, bringing the score to 12-7 Hancock.

After the kickoff McComb started an empty drive as the Hawk defense was flying high. The Tigers converted on a fourth-and-two as Brad Jagurs ran for 8, bringing the ball out to other big gun to unload as senior QB Errick Wilson ran for 5, 3, and 2 yards consecutively. With the ball resting on the 41, Wilson threw an incomplete pass on third-and-five bringing up a fourth down.

The Tigers decided to gamble and go for it. Matthews got the call, busted through the Hawk line and galloped for 19 yards to the Hancock 40. Wilson scrambled for 9 yards down to the 31 and carried again for the first down to the 29.

On the next play Wilson completed a pass to Tiger running back Brad Davis who evaded two Hawk defensive backs and carried it in for a score. The horn sounded to end the first quarter as Gray was headed for the goal line.

McComb added the PAT and led 7-0.

The Tigers' kickoff was short and Richard Simmons picked up the ball and returned it to the Hawk 40-yard line. Hancock ran three plays but were unable to gain a first down; however, on fourth-and-three they took a gamble of their own and attempted a halfback pass. Goff unloaded a bomb that just barely missed a wide-open Bobby Doyle.

McComb took over on downs the locker room to start the second half it appeared as though they were really fired up, but it looked as if McComb was just too big and strong for them.

The Tigers returned the second half kickoff back to the 33 and within six plays had moved the ball down to Hancock's 37-yard line. Two plays later after the Hawk defense had dropped the QB for a loss, the ball was stripped loose and Simmons recovered for Hancock on the McComb 35.

The next set of plays had the fans excited as Goff ran for 1 and then 4 yards. Doyle added 2, bringing up fourth-and-three from the 28.

Goff then took a pitch out and ran down the sideline for 4 where a Tiger tackler gave him a late hit and caused penalty flags to fly. The penalty moved the ball half the distance to the goal and brought the ball down to the 12-yard line.

This fired up the offensive line and allowed Jeron Vince to move the ball for a 6-yard gain. Goff got the next call and ran a sweep around the right side. He dove for the goal line but was knocked out of bounds at the 6-inch mark. The Hawk offensive line pushed McComb back into the end zone and Goff drove

If we hired people at Garden Park Community Hospital only for their proficiency in clinical care-how quickly they can give out medication, how easily they can fill out a chart or how skillfully they can bandage a wound, we could hire the same people any hospital does.

But we don't. We hire people for more than that.

We hire them for their proficiency in patient care-how quickly they can drop what they're doing if a patient needs them, how easily they can make a patient feel comfortable or how skillfully they can listen.

And because of that, we get the kind of people you won't find in other hospitals. People like Mark Harshbarger who put their best foot forward regardless of where they are.

Eagles nip Rocks 13-6

Special to the Echo
BY TOM ACKERMAN
It was cold, bitter cold, in Magnolia Friday night. But in spite of the blustery weather, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws remained fired up through four quarters of play in their premier post-season play-off appearance.

Although the South Pike Eagles slipped by them 13-6, the Rocks exhibited the character and poise that elevated them to an overall 7-3 record for the regular season.

The Eagles were the first on the scoreboard halfway through the first period of play with a keeper from 16 yards out. The point after kick was good for a 7-0 lead with 5:49 left to play in the quarter.

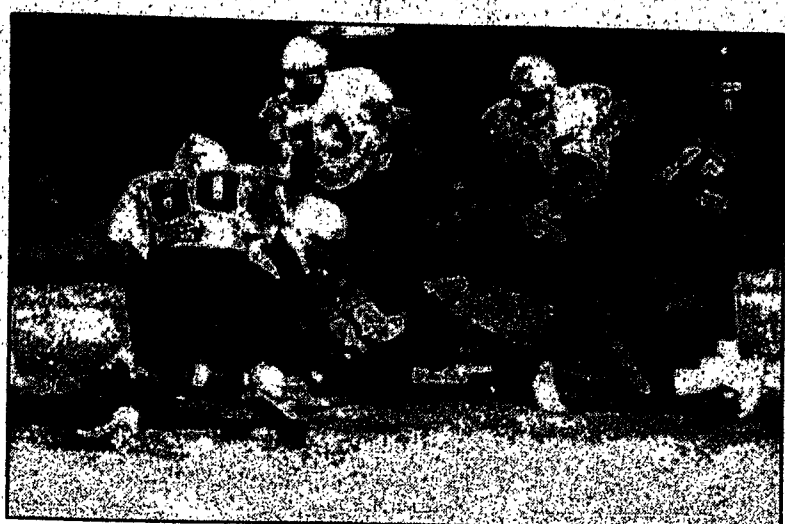

Trading possessions with the Eagles, the Rocks began their scoring drive midway through the second quarter.

On South Pike's first down of a series, Rock Mike Davidge held them to 2 yards. Sal Palmisano followed with a quarterback sack to set the Eagles back 4 yards.

On third down, the Eagles bobbled the ball, and Galen Smith recovered for the Rocks at the South Pike 23.

Then the Rocks' triple threat moved into action. SSC quarterback Bill Dreher connected with Ken Booker on a shovel pass that gained 9 yards. Mike Lee and Tate Thrifflay each got their hands on the ball, and Thrifflay carried to the 9 for a Rock first down.

Facing the Eagles' goal line stand, Booker moved to the 4, and two plays later, both on Thrifflay charges, Dreher pushed across from the 1 with 4:04 left in the first half. The PAT failed.

Although the Rocks could not find the key to another score, the defense continued to pressure the Eagles.

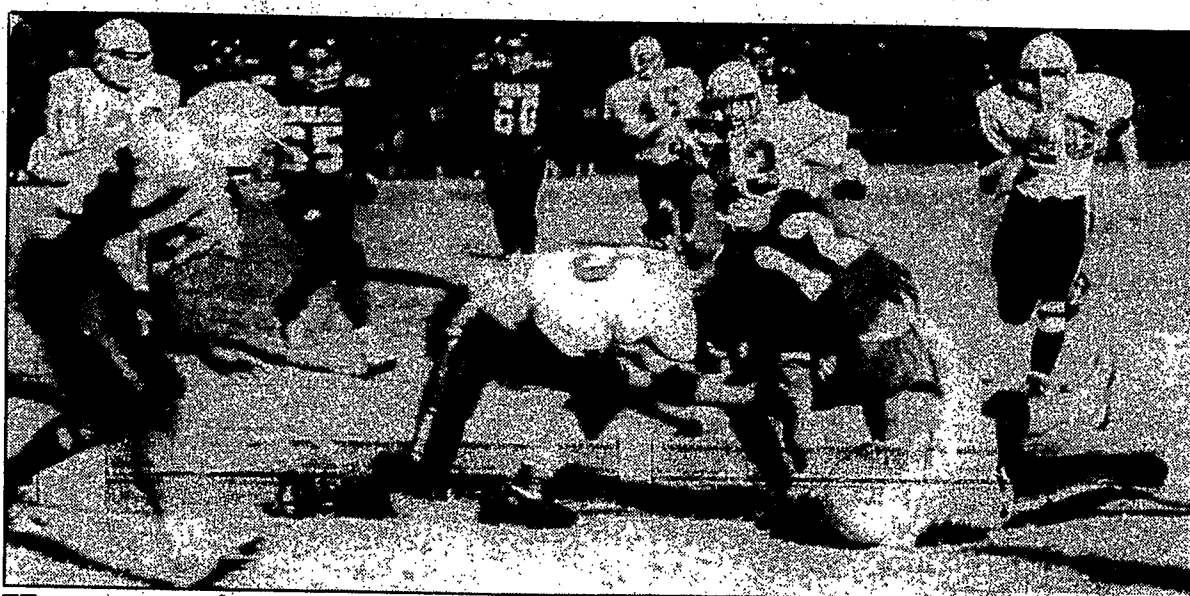

Key defensive efforts were logged by Davidge, Palmisano, Smith, Booker, Mark Carter, Scott Peterson, Steven Bradley, Paul Johnson and Kerry Witmann, who left the game early in the second half with a possible leg fracture.

A key defensive play for the Rocks came late in the first half, when an Eagle drive was broken up by Booker's interception that set up SSC at the 15. But time ran out before the Rocks could capitalize on the break.

The defense held through most of the third quarter, but late in the period, with 1:37 on the clock, the Eagles scored on a keeper from 15 out for the final scoring, 13-6, when the point after kick failed.

For a while in the final period, it looked as though the Rocks could make a run for it. With less than five minutes remaining, Smith intercepted an Eagle pass to start a Rock drive from the South Pike 41. The Rocks moved to their own 26, but gave the ball over on downs, leaving the Eagles 4:09 to eat up on the clock.

The loss at Magnolia brings the Rock-A-Chaws to a season record of 7-4.

over on downs.

The clock now showed 1:36 remaining in the game and McComb was left with no timeouts. Hancock was able to run the clock 'out by downing the ball after each snap and seal the win' at 12:7.

"Our kids played outstanding in the second half," said Hawk coach Irvin Favre. "They came out sluggish in the first half but we made adjustments. The defense did great and the offense moved the ball and scored when we had to."

Hancock will host Laurel for their second round playoff game Friday night.

Be a quitter

American Cancer Society asks you to go smoke-free Thursday, Nov. 15

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The American Cancer Society is asking you to "kick some butts", as in the cigarette variety, on Thursday, Nov. 15, Great American Smoke-out Day.

If you don't smoke, encourage a friend to quit for a day. Official adoption papers are available to secure your intentions in writing.

The Hancock County chapter has enlisted the help of area schools to spread the message to teenagers—lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer deaths, and cigarette smoking is the major cause of lung cancer.

Society.

"Early detection of lung cancer is very difficult because symptoms often do not appear until the disease is in advanced stages," he said.

"The five-year relative survival rate is only 13% in all patients, regardless of stage at diagnosis. The rate is 36% for cases detected when the disease is still localized, but only 21% of lung cancers are discovered that early.

"These figures are depressing, and there is no way to sugar-coat them," said Vance. "Even though Americans are smoking less, it is frustrating to think so many people die from a disease that is more often preventable."

Many local businesses are smoke-free and others have planned to distribute Great American Smokeout literature Thursday.

Among those are Bay Technical Associates, Coast Electric, Bay St. Louis Police and Fire Departments and City Hall, Hancock County Courthouse and Sheriff's Department and The Sea Coast Echo.

Mary's Eatery will offer a free lunch to the first 11 persons to throw their cigarettes away on Thursday. All persons discarding their smokes are eligible to win a cash prize offered by WBSL's Dan Diamond.

today.

Smoker "Adoption Papers," buttons and literature are available at The Sea Coast Echo office, 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

To join millions of Americans on Thursday, the following ACS tips are offered:

—Hide all ashtrays, matches, etc.;
—Keep a supply of sugarless gum and healthy snacks;

—Drink lots of liquids, but pass up coffee and alcohol;

—Tell everyone you're quitting for the day;

—When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath, hold it for ten seconds and release it slowly;

—Exercise to relieve tension;

—Try the 'buddy system'; ask a friend to quit, too.

Adoption Papers

I, _____, will do all that is within my power to help you, _____, not to smoke during the Great American Smokeout. On my honor and as my part of the bargain, I promise to do the following to accomplish our goal:

- Praise you for having the willpower to give up nicotine for a day.
- Reassure you that there are still only 24 hours in a day.
- Help you remember your commitment to not smoke.
- Bribe you with food, money, and/or timeshare vacations.
- Be there when you need me.

You, _____, on your part, will make it through the day if you:

- Hide your cigarettes, ashtrays, lighters, and matches.
- Tell your friends you have been adopted and will not smoke during the Great American Smokeout.
- Call me when you feel you can't resist the desire to smoke.
- Refrain from visiting smoke-filled rooms.
- Remember that today, you are leaving the pack behind.

I will do what it takes to help my friend leave the pack behind.

Disaster drill

Passersby may have thought they viewed the aftermath of a terrible accident—almost a dozen senior citizens with seemingly life-threatening injuries lying alongside the Hancock County Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center. What they actually saw was a readiness drill, to monitor response time for the emergency room medical staff, Bay St. Louis and Waveland Police and Fire Departments and emergency units. Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin and Mobile Medic operators reported the drills are conducted at least twice yearly to maintain certification. Volunteer victims, who were quite good actors, are members of the Hancock County Retired Senior Volunteer Program. All volunteers were treated to a hot lunch by the American Red Cross.

MILITARY MENTIONS

CPL BURCH

Marine Lance Cpl. Paula A. Burch, a resident of Bay St. Louis, recently completed the administrative clerk course.

During the eight-week course at Marine Corps Service Support Schools, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C., Burch was provided with the basic skills and knowledge required to perform as an administrative clerk.

She received instruction in typing and preparation of naval correspondence, and was introduced to the basic office functions performed by all Marine Corps administrative sections.

A 1987 graduate of Hancock High School, she joined the Marine Corps Reserves in April.

CPL TONEY

Marine Cpl. George H. Toney, son of Joyce A. Hall of Pass Christian, was graduated from Marine Security Guard School at Marine Corps Base, Quantico, Va.

While attending the six-week course, Toney was trained for duty at American Embassies throughout the world. His studies included instruction on the organization and functioning of the State Department's foreign service; protection of classified material; interior guard duty; protocol, etiquette and ceremonial functions; locks and safes; fire prevention; and identification of incendiary devices.

SGT STARITA

Sgt. Kenneth J. Starita was graduated from the information management specialist course at Keesler Air Force Base. Course graduates learned administrative support and office management for functional staff elements. The course included typing, administrative communications, telephone etiquette, and management of publications, forms, and records.

Starita is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Starita Jr. of Pass Christian.

'La Cage Aux Folles' auditions in BSL

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will hold auditions for the Broadway musical, "La Cage Aux Folles," Nov. 18-19. Music is by Jerry Herman and the book was written by Harvey Fierstein.

'La Cage' is a love story, the tale of a marriage of 20 years almost ruined by a son's thoughtlessness.

A cast of 34 is needed, including singers, dancers and actors who can sing or dance. Actors must be 17 years and older.

An accordion player, a drummer, set designer and people backstage to help with properties, costumes and lighting are needed.

The director is Larry Heller, and the music director is Colby Fabian. Auditions are set for Sunday, Nov. 18 from 2 to 5 p.m.

and Monday, Nov. 19 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Little Theatre on Boardman Avenue off Dunbar or Beach Boulevard past the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Persons needing directions to the theatre or who are unable to make the auditions and would like to be a part of the production may call the director at 467-1304.

American Legion Post 77 Auxiliary

The November 6 meeting was called to order and opened by president Janice Carver.

Marion Marsh and Elaine Lytell advanced the colors, Mary Cailier read the opening prayers, and all present recited the Pledge of Allegiance and the Preamble.

Hedi Klein thanked all who helped with the Oktoberfest. It was a big success and will be repeated next year.

Secretary Lee Ann Sauls read letters of thanks from the following for money and other help.

The Alzheimer's Disease Research Center, Biloxi VA Hospital, and RSVP director Jo Ann Lagasse.

Terri Green reported the check for five transistor radios had been given to Dan Diamond of Radio Station WBSL. The radios were sent to Armed Services Radio in Saudi Arabia for our servicemen.

These radios are small and can be carried in a pocket and bring pleasure to those who get them.

Members voted to buy sleep chairs for rooms of cancer patients at the Biloxi VA Hospital, enabling the families of patients to stay all night.

Auxiliary members were asked to wear their uniforms at the Veterans Day parade November 12.

The meeting closed with the closing prayer and retiring of the colors.

The next meeting is Dec. 4.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Wrensted-Green

First Assembly of God Church in Waveland was the setting for the October 6 marriage of Valerie Grace Green and John Wrensted III.

Parents of the bride are the Reverend and Mrs. Milton G. Green Jr. of Demopolis, Alabama. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wrensted Jr.

Officiating ministers were the Reverends Harris LaPointe and Milton G. Green Jr. Soloists were Krista Signorelli and Emmett and Wanda Pillault. Linette LaPointe was organist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose a formal gown of white satin featuring a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline overlaid with Alencon lace, seed pearls and aurora crystals. The long, tapered sleeves were embellished with lace inserts and the full skirt fell from a basque waistline, extending to cathedral length. An Alencon lace border enhanced the train, which was attached at the back waistline by a handsewn bow. The gown and veil were designed by the bride's mother.

Her two-tiered veil of silk illusion was accented with tiny silk flowers fashioned with a double pouf.

Tina Marie Whitson was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen Smith, Keeli DiNapoli, Angie Moore and Amy Richardson.

Amanda Richardson was flower girl and Joshua Green was ring bearer.

Louis Edward Bourgeois was best man. Groomsmen were Scott LaFontaine, Mike DiNapoli, Delous Smith and Gerald LaFontaine.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Hancock County Civic Center.

The couple resides in Waveland.

Gill-Beech

The forthcoming marriage of Robin Lynn Beech to James William Gill is announced by her parents, Patricia Ramond of Bay St. Louis and Bobby Beech of Kiln. Mr. Gill is the son of Dora Adams of Pearl River, La. and David Gill of Pasadena, Texas.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School and is employed with a shirt factory in Long Beach.

The prospective groom is a recent graduate of Commercial Driving Institute in Gulfport and is employed with Builders' Transport in Cuba, Alabama.

The couple will exchange vows in a 1 p.m. ceremony November 17 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Kiln. A reception will follow the ceremony.

Directed Homework Study helps students learn how to organize work in order to complete it more efficiently and effectively. It also enhances study and test-taking skills. Students practice working independently within a carefully monitored study environment where they can receive help, as necessary.
- tutoring Services are provided for individuals or small groups to students or adults with a specific learning need.

Workshops are set up to address the needs of elementary and secondary level students, as well as adults.

WORKSHOP TOPICS

- Study Skills
- Written Composition Skills
- Mathematics and Application
- Reading Mechanics (Phonics)
- Reading in the Content Areas
- Spelling
- GED Preparation
- ACT and SAT Preparation

Workshop topics are flexible and may be modified based on request or need.

The Education and Learning Center is comprised of Master and Doctoral level learning specialists who provide services to children and adults. Our extensive experience has included evaluating and diagnosing academic performance, assisting in developing individual educational plans, and coordinating special services provided in both educational and clinical settings.

Depending on the needs of the individual, services are available in the office, school, or other institutions. Group or individual sessions can be scheduled as needed.

We are committed to providing the highest quality care to all individuals served and pursue all ends to accomplish this goal.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead, Dedeaux, Clermont Harbor and Pearlinton.

Call the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments.

The service is sponsored by Mississippi State University and Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. To set up an appointment call Hancock County Extension Office, 467-5456.

Senior Citizens Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macramé, art, quilting, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, Christmas ornaments, framing, wood working and various other crafts. A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 30 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 35 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

The contract with Methodist Senior Services provides two homemakers for about two hours a week to homebound, needy seniors to do light housekeeping or errands for them. For more information, call the center at 467-9292 from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center

The Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center offers free counseling, pregnancy tests, maternity and baby clothes.

Located on Highway 90, next to the Unique Shoppe in Waveland, the center offers a 24-hour hotline, 467-3444.

Jobs for Mississippi Graduates

Seniors at Hancock High School who plan to go directly to work after graduation may enroll in the Jobs for Mississippi Graduates Program (JMG), for assistance in locating quality jobs after graduation.

The program, which is one of six in the state, seeks to enhance employability skills.

For additional information, contact Mark France at Hancock High School at 467-2251.

American Cancer Society

Assistance to victims of cancer is available through local chapters of the American Cancer Society.

Necessary items for patients, such as dressings, ostomy and sickroom supplies are available to those in need. Equipment which may be loaned to patients includes wheelchairs and hospital beds.

Assistance is available for transportation to qualifying hospitals.

Several rehabilitation programs are offered, including "Reach To Recovery", in which volunteers who have had mastectomies visit new breast cancer patients (with approval) of physician) to assist in emotional, physical and psychological rehabilitation.

Support programs are also available to ostomy and laryngectomy patients.

American Cancer Society service request forms are available by contacting the Gulfport office at 896-7024.

Experienced hands weave beauty

Bay St. Louis native, 84-year-old Camille Schwartz learned the art of tatting to make lace when she was a very young girl. She spends Tuesdays through Sundays at her daughter's business, Beryl's Flea Market on Hwy. 90, creating the delicate needlework. Schwartz welcomes the opportunity to pass on the art form to anyone who has the interest to learn, at no cost. "Come sit and visit," invites Schwartz. Beryl sells the handmade lace by the yard and as finished pieces. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

Barq's and Coke cool off hot days.

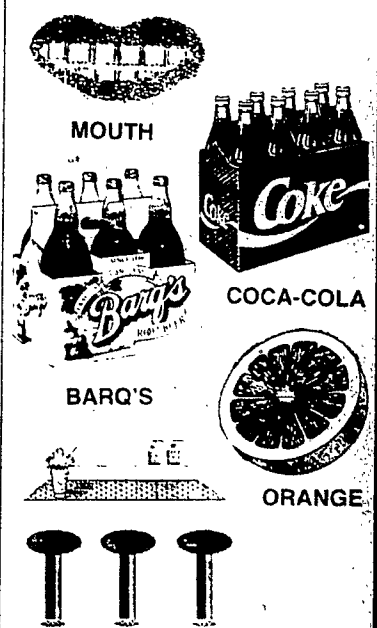

Barq's root beer belongs in Mississippi mouths. In the late 1890s, Edward C. Barq moved from New Orleans to Biloxi to buy a company that bottled spring water. He used the water for his orange "pop" and for new drinks. One was the root beer that is still called Barq's. In 1976 his family sold the company to two New Orleans men who now sell the soft drink in 46 states. But the secret syrup that gives Barq's its good taste is still made in Biloxi by Barq's great-grandson.

Coca-Cola really belongs to Georgia, where the first Coke syrup was made. But a Mississippian put it in a handy bottle. Joseph A. Biedenharn owned a candy shop and soda fountain in Vicksburg. In 1894 he decided to bottle the drink for people who could not come to his shop for a glass of fountain Coke. The idea spread.

Farm safety for children promoted by FmHA

Farmers Home Administration has joined "Farm Safety For Just Kids" in a combined crusade to help prevent injuries and deaths on the farms.

James B. Huff, Farmers Home Administration state director, pledged his support of FmHA employees in Mississippi participating in the crusade.

Huff stated he fully supports FmHA employees providing an awareness and educational materials in their communities in an effort to prevent injuries and possible death to children living on or visiting farms.

Farm Safety for Just Kids was founded by Marilyn Adams, whose 11-year-old son was killed in an accident on the family's Iowa Farm. It is a non-profit organization dedicated to educating parents and children about farm injury prevention.

Young children are hurt because they are attracted to moving parts and older children who operate equipment don't know that to do anything goes wrong.

Farms always have been hazardous workplaces. Toddlers are prone to falls and to kicks by farm animals. Older children are more frequently injured in falls from horses and tractor accidents.

To help prevent accidents from occurring, follow the 15 steps to farm safety.

—Don't allow children as extra riders on equipment.

—Do not allow children to play with idle machinery.

—Leave any equipment that might fall—such as front-end loaders—in the down position.

—When self-propelled machinery is parked, brakes should be locked and keys removed from the ignition.

—Always leave a tractor PTO in neutral.

—When starting machinery—and especially when reversing it—know where the children are.

—Maintain machinery in good repair, particularly protective shields, ROPS and seat belts.

—Do not permit kids to operate machinery until they have completed safety training.

—Fence farm ponds and manure pits.

Place fixed ladders out of reach, or fit with a special barrier; store portable ladders away from danger areas.

—Shield dangerous machinery components and electrical boxes and wiring and place out of reach of small children, or fit with locking devices.

—Store chemicals and pesticides in a locked area.

—Place warning decals on all grain bins, wagons and trucks.

—Maintain lights and reflectors for all equipment used on roads.

—Devote a day to family safety instructions and rules.

For more information on Farm Safety For Just Kids, contact your local Farmers Home Administration Office or Marilyn Adams, P.O. Box 458, Earlham, IA 50072.

She will provide you with information on Farm Safety For Just Kids, coloring books, decals, posters and t-shirts. Farmers Home Administration has available upon request an 18-minute Farm Safety For Just Kids video.

Manage your property to encourage wildlife

By Linda McMahon
District Conservationist

As our population increases and the agricultural demands increase, the number of acres where wildlife can thrive is shrinking. Certain conditions are necessary for the reproduction and survival of wildlife species.

Landowners or operators can retain these wildlife habitats as they plant and harvest, either crops or trees. Areas that are not being cultivated or cleared could also be improved for wildlife habitat.

Wildlife population can be increased on any property—a farm, or woodland with the proper planning. Many times there are areas in cropland fields that should not be farmed; for example fence rows, turn rows, small areas of steep slope and wet areas.

The understory and ground cover in a forest can be controlled or planted to encourage wildlife use.

The first consideration in wildlife management is deciding which species to manage. Each species has its own unique habitat requirements:

Quail and dove prefer open or semi-open land;
Rabbits prefer abundant cover;

Turkeys require hardwood stands of timber and open area;
Squirrels require hardwood stands, as 90 percent or more of their food comes from mast producing trees; and

Deer prefer any area that will produce tender browse.

By using a variety of wildlife management practices, the needs of the various species can be provided.

Some of the wildlife management practices which can be used in Hancock County are controlled burning in pine stands (check with the Mississippi Forestry Commission for a permit before burning). Bush hogging, select-cut timber management, clear-cut timber management in strips or small blocks, food plots, plant shrubs and mast producing trees, brush piles and even fencing can be used to manage wildlife.

For more information on wildlife management practices contact the Soil Conservation Service in Kiln at 255-3225.

Hancock Library receives Literacy Foundation grant

Julie Mabus announced the Mississippi Literacy Foundation has awarded two grants on the Gulf Coast in the state's effort to enhance Mississippi's literacy effort. The recipients of the grants were Moore Community House in Biloxi and the Hancock County Library in Bay St. Louis.

"By making a commitment to adult literacy, we ensure a prosperous future for the whole state," Mrs. Mabus said. "We have a goal to meet. That goal is full literacy for every Mississippian. Grants such as these propel us closer and closer to that goal."

Moore Community House was awarded a $5,000 grant for the development of contextual literacy curriculum. The program has recently moved toward a learner-centered program, and the development of these curriculum materials will help the program accomplish the goal of meeting the individual needs of their adult learners.

Hancock County Library has received a one-year loan of Apple hardware and software. They will use the year to experiment with recently developed software materials by the Hattiesburg Education Literacy Project.

The goal of the project is to develop a manual and curriculum guide for the software.

The manual will provide users of the software practical information about using the program with students at various reading levels.

Suggested lesson plans and a listing of recommended additional software will also be produced. These materials will be available to interested literacy providers.

"This is a real opportunity for the Hancock County Library to develop a manual to go along with the software," said Ruth Krebs, literacy coordinator for the library.

"It will help users of the software developed in Hattiesburg to use the program with greater efficiency."

"The board of directors of the foundation was pleased to award both of these grants because adult learners will be included in the development and testing of materials," said Larry L. Johnson, president of the board. "Who better to ask than the learners themselves."

The Mississippi Literacy Foundation is a non-profit foundation established to promote literacy efforts throughout Mississippi by providing funding for special projects and by increasing awareness of the needs of adult learners.

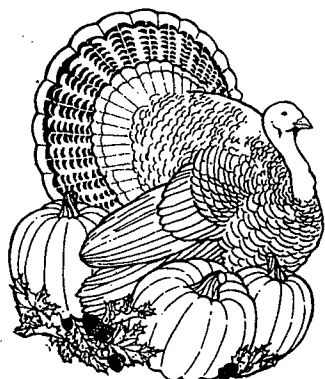

Library receives award

"Thanksgiving Fun" will be the theme for this week's children's story hour at the City-County Public Library, Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis.

Arthur's Thanksgiving and Chester Chipmunk's Thanksgiving are the books to be featured on Wednesday, Nov. 13 at 10:30 a.m. at the City-County Public Library. There will also be Thanksgiving coloring sheets and two finger players, "Our Table" and "Mr. Turkey."

At the Waveland Library, children will be hearing Why We Have Thanksgiving and Fried Feathers for Thanksgiving. There will be a finger play, "Five Fat Turkeys," along with paper bag pilgrim puppets, tell-and-draw stories and a physical activity.

Due to the Thanksgiving holidays, there will be no story times next week. They will resume the week of Nov. 26.

Weekly story times are held at the City-County Public Library and the Waveland Library from September through May. Programs last approximately one hour.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school age children, three to five years of age, who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

Further information is available by calling Sandra Ladner at the City-County Library at 467-5282, or Karen Peoples at the Waveland Library at 467-9240.

Open House

An open house will be held this afternoon from 1:45 to 5 at the new Hancock High School located at Highway 603 and Stennis Drive (next to the Stennis Airpark). Hancock County Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph, third from left, explains the new facility during a Chamber of Commerce Morning Edition held in October. From left are Conrad Mauffray, Jerry Bourg, Randolph, Michael Reeves, Clarice Gustin, Pat Cuculla and Jimmy Mitchell. The public is invited to the open house at the new modern facility. CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Pass Christian Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club will meet Thursday, Nov. 1 at 11 a.m. at the Hancock Bank Annex, Pass Christian. The program "PAL," People Against Litter, an affiliate of "Keep America Beautiful," featured guest speaker Roy F. Stainer, state coordinator for PAL. He showed a video tape depicting the "Keep America Beautiful" and "Keep Mississippi Beautiful" programs.

The close relationship of these programs was related to the Pass Christian Garden Club's efforts to promote a sense of pride in gardens and natural surroundings.

The landfill crisis necessitating searches for new landfills with improved standards reiterates the need for reduction of waste and increased recycling programs through beautification committees and curbside pickups that would increase participation by all.

Dr. C. D. Taylor enlightened members and guests on the efforts and Pass Christian Historic Association has made to buy their own building. He encouraged cooperation and support of our similar goals.

Bob Doe asked for volunteers to help him with the ongoing beautification projects throughout Pass Christian. Shirley Doe announced the second annual Tour of Historic Oaks and Magnolias on Pass Christian Arbor Day, Feb. 8, 1991.

Elizabeth Hedgepath displayed and discussed bromeliads. Evelyn Schmidt asked members to bring items for the Friday, Nov. 9 white elephant, plants and baked goods sale, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to the Hancock Annex on Nov. 8, after 1 p.m.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Oscar Gwin Jr. and Mrs. O. L. Rhodes.

Hancock Women's Club

The Hancock Women's Club met at the Waveland Library on Thursday, Nov. 8 with Lois Cripple, president, in charge. The meeting was well attended. Guest was Amelia Terrebonne. Cripple announced a nominating committee had been appointed to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

She also suggested a Christmas party be planned for the children who attend the Child Development Center. This met with the approval of the membership. Exact date for the activity will be coordinated with Laura Pittman, Child Development supervisor.

Fun and Games Day will be at noon Wednesday, Nov. 28 at the home of Julia Loup, 620 Central Avenue, Waveland. Bag lunches will be donated and sold to attendees. The afternoon's fun will be playing po-ke-no.

After a recess for refreshments provided by Rosemary Malandra and Marie Braselman, George Graves, manager of Hancock Industries, spoke on the functions of his organization and showed a tape which demonstrated the work activities of the developmentally disabled individuals.

The door prize was won by Vickie Becker and the benefit raffle, a holiday basket of goodies, was won by Dot Zimmerman.

The next meeting, which will be the Christmas luncheon, will be at the Quality Inn in Diamondhead on Thursday, Dec. 13.

Lions Club

The Hancock County Lions Club will present "Talent In Comedy" Saturday, Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. at the Valena C. Jones Gymnasium, 310 Old Spanish Trail, behind the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Donation is $3 each. Funds will be used to help the community with glasses and other needs.

ABSENTEE VOTING

For November 20, 1990 Democratic Second Primary Election for Mayor and Aldermen, City of Waveland.

The office of the City Clerk of the City of Waveland will be open for absentee voting Tuesday, November 13, 1990 thru Friday, November 16, 1990 from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. In addition, the office will be open Saturday, November 10, 1990 and Saturday, November 17, 1990 from 8:30 a.m. until noon.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The regular monthly birthday party, sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139, co-hosted by Oris Planchard and Roslyn Weathers for the residents of Hotel Reed Nursing Center, was Thursday, Oct. 25 for the residents who celebrated birthdays that month.

Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano while Roslyn Weathers led the singing. Oris Planchard and Elaine Roberts went among the residents to encourage them to participate in the singing.

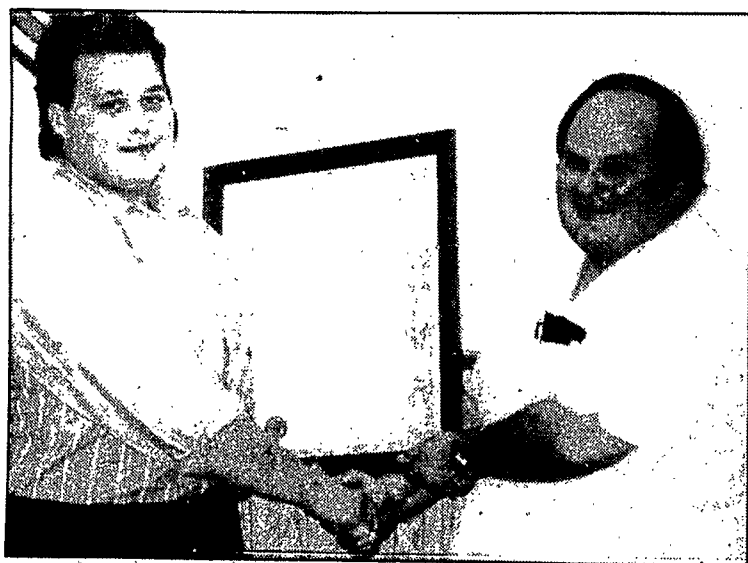

As 'Happy Birthday' was sung for the celebrants, gifts were handed them which were received with happy smiles.

The dining room was festively decorated with the Halloween motif, bats, witches, pumpkins and orange and black streamers. The monthly sing-a-long was Thursday, Nov. 1.

Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano while Roslyn Weathers led the singing and Oris Planchard visited the residents and encouraged them to join in the singing of hymns, gospel songs and the 'oldies but goodies.'

Connie Geisenderfer, director of nurses, and Mr. Compston, activity director, were pleased to see the response of the residents, such as joining in song, hand-clapping and tapping of feet to the music.

Oris Planchard and Pat Turnipseed helped serve the refreshments.

Chief squire

Mark Blackledge, chief squire of the Knights of Columbus junior organization, presents Pere le Duc Council 1522 Grand Knight Bob Hubbard with the group's original charter.

Mississippi Writers Club

The Gulf Coast Writers Association will sponsor a Basic Writing Seminar Saturday, Nov. 17 from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

The seminar is designed to cover common issues in writing, including poetry, fiction and general writing. Each topic will be presented and discussed, then practiced through writing exercises.

The seminar is open to the public for a fee of $1; admission is free to members of the Gulf Coast Writers Association. Students are especially encouraged to attend.

For more information, call Kim-M. Campbell at 832-2713.
